
What impression does the source give about the town of Magnitogorsk?
Support your answer with reference to the source. (6)

SOURCE A

"The early stages of the building of Magnitogorsk were done without enough workers and without the necessary supplies and materials. Teams of young volunteers from every corner of the Soviet Union did the preparation for the railroad and dam construction before they could begin on the steel plant."

A description by a volunteer American worker in the USSR in the 1930's.

A

The source gives the impression that Magnitogorsk was built under difficult circumstances, and perhaps even involved hard manual labour.

B

The source gives the impression that Magnitogorsk was built under difficult circumstances, and perhaps even involved hard manual labour, "the early stages ...were done without enough workers and without the necessary supplies".

C

The source gives the impression that Magnitogorsk was built under difficult circumstances, and perhaps even involved hard manual labour ("the early stages ...were done without enough workers and without the necessary supplies").

D

The source gives the impression that Magnitogorsk was built under difficult circumstances, and perhaps even involved hard manual labour, as the source states that "the early stages ...were done without enough workers and without the necessary supplies".

E

The source gives the impression that Magnitogorsk was built under difficult circumstances, and perhaps even involved hard manual labour, as the source states that "the early stages of the building of Magnitogorsk were done without enough workers and without the necessary supplies and materials".
